

Where do we get our food from?

A lot of the food we eat in Ireland comes from other countries. Identify the countries represented below then match the food to the country of origin. Each food comes from more than one place and each country can provide more than one type of food. You can use a map or the internet to help you.

